

Mirela Mihaela Doga took her doctoral degree in philology in 2015 and works as assistant professor of the "Ovidius" University of Constanța, Department for Teacher Training. She provided seminar activities for Romanian language / literature courses and now she is focusing on Romanian/English language teaching seminars. She currently coordinates the specialized practice (pre-primary level) of the students from the Faculty of Psychology and Educational Sciences, as well as of the students enrolled in the psycho-pedagogical training module, Romanian / English specialities. She also holds an English seminar for Psychology and Social Work students. She appreciates innovation, cooperation, is empathetic and passionate about reading, theater, art and travel.